

Jamie Stitt presently serves as Deputy Assistant Commissioner of Business Development for the State of Tennessee's Department of Economic and Community Development, assisting in effectively implementing Governor Haslam's nine regional "Jobs Base Camps" as part of the Jobs4TN initiative. Stitt assists Assistant Commissioner Allen Borden in overseeing all expansions of existing companies and recruitment of new companies to Tennessee as well as the FastTrack Incentive Team. The Business Development Division is focused on job creation across the state.

Prior to her role as Deputy Assistant Commissioner of Business Development, Stitt was the Southern Middle Regional Director where she led her team in assisting companies in the creation of more than 6,200 jobs and nearly $700 million in capital investment. Stitt has also fulfilled the role of Three Star Program Director and Regional Economic Development Specialist where she assisted communities in implementing economic preparedness best practices. Prior to joining ECD in 2007, Stitt was director of Joint Economic and Community Development for Marshall County where she focused her efforts on new business creation. Stitt earned her master's degree at Illinois State University and her bachelor's degree at University of Illinois at Springfield.

###